COL. RUPPERT OWNS BEST ST. BERNARDS

Host of Championships Have Gone to Dogs From His Kennels.

BREED OWES MUCH TO HIM

That great dog of romance, the St Bernard, has no stancher supporter and friend than Col. Jacob Ruppert, who has spent considerable time and money to bring to America specimens which have had much to do with keeping the breed up to its present high standard in this country. It is well for the breed that Col. Ruppert has steadfastly indulged his liking for these dogs, as of late years, when the large breeds have made way for the smaller varieties of terriers and toy dogs, the day of the St. Hernard seemed to be in its twilight. However, through the efforts of a few breeders, among them Col. Ruppert, these majestic animals have not been allowed to be forgotten. This is as it should be, as the St. Bernard's characteristic benignity and the fact that its instinct—as in the case of the Newfoundland—is to preserve life and not destroy it, appeals to all lovers of animals. Col. Ruppert's first St. Bernard was given to him in 1890 by a friend return-ing from Switzerland. This dog, named Norma, was a fine big animal and so captivated the Colonel that he decided to found a kennel devoted to the breed. He gurchased from E. H. Moore of Massachusetts, who was at that time the fore-most breeder of St. Bernard dogs in America, a young dog, Otos. Others added to his string at that time were Scottish Prince, Aristocrat and Alter-nate, which were imported from England. Later the smooth coated Champion Em-press of Contoocook was obtained, and this wonderful specimen died with an un defeated record, having about thirty-five first prizes to her credit. After this Countess Madge and Hepsey were added to the Ruppert kennel, and the dogs were big winners at all of the large shows. When Col. Ruppert was elected to Congress he disposed of all of the dogs. with the exception of Empress of Con-toocook, and Miss Anna, a daughter of the world famous dog Watch.

After Remnant came Prince Loyal and the Immense Rollo B. a grandson of the great Champion Marvel. Then for a time Col. Ruppert reduced his kennel, but in 1911 he imported a number of new ones, including Champion Young Stormer, Champion Queen of Pearls, Champion Spenditus, Champion Princess Nan and Sapphires. At this time he also bought the American breds Champion Spenditus, Champion University of Massachusetts, and after the association had become involved in diffusional culties, the women who had made the

These dogs kept his colors in the front ranks in the breed until he brought from England that grand winner and producer, Champion Lady Lyndon, which won the silver cup offered for the best St. Bernard in the Westminster show in 1914 and 1915, and in 1916 won the silver medal offered by the St. Bernard Club for the best bitch of the breed in the show. She Was also best of her sex at Philadelphia. Last year the English winners Boy Blue, Longville Abbott and Bo-Peep were brought to this kennel. Boy Blue was exhibited only twice in England and at that time he won over all of the leading dogs in that country. His victories were gained at the Manchester and Birmingham shows, two of the largest all breed fixtures on the other side. He made his A rerican debut at Boston, where he was the best St. Bernard in the show, a place which he duplicated at the Westminster and Philadelphia chows.

Longville Abbott is the sire of Boy Blue and he also has been a big winner both in England and America, meeting defeat only when pitted against his son. Bo-Peep is a litter sister of Boy WEX JONES BUYS A BULLDOG.

AMERICAN DOG WINS ON PATRIOTS DAY

Peter's Captain, a Boston, Is Selected as Best at Boston Show.

DEFEATS A GOOD FIELD

A Boston terrier, Champion Peter's Captain, was the outstanding winner at the fourth annual show of the Toy Dog Club of New England, which was held in Cambridge, Mass., on Wednesday last. This dog, the property of the Watch City Kennels, won the special for the best on-sporting dog in the show as well as that for the best terrier, and as it was Patriots Day in New England the winning of this representative of the only American breed was more than pleasing to the large attendance assembled to watch the judging of the unclassified specials. Peter's Captain needs no introduction to the Boston terrier fancy He is a dog that has established himself as a great winner at the big events and he was never shown in better form than on Wednesday.

In accomplishing the feat of being chosen as the best terrier Peter's Captain had to defeat such well known and prominent winners as the Airedale terrier Champion Kenmare Conjurors the Scottish terrier Earlybird Olivia and the famous winning bullterrier Manchester White Rose. His feat in winning over these dogs was no mean task and it be-speaks volumes for the quality displayed this little American dog.

Peter's King, the sire of Captain, had a sort of field day if the winnings of his get are taken into consideration. He was the sire of the winning Boston ter shows where he has been on exhirier male Starkey's Soldier Boy and o the winning bitch Lady Belle XVII.
Frank Teeling of Boston, an old time breeder of this type of dog, judged these classes and his work taken as a whole was pleasing. In English setters Vinlusk Tod, owned by Vincent P. Lush, won for the best of the breed. He is a beautiful headed orange Belton, standing on good shoulders and a free mover.

In wire haired pointing Griffons a good one made appearance in Messrs Crowell and Hornblower's Cappan, a dog that looks as if he could give great day's sport in the field. He is big, upstanding animal with heavy bone sound and nearly perfect in conforma

"One of the most exasperating conditions that exist to-day is the varied opinions on type and the right that each fancier claims of interpreting the standard as he sees it. Unfortunately for the breeder- the man who aspires to breed a perfect speciment—this condition provides a serious handicap. And his only option—if he expects to wink is to breed toward that type favored by those judges who may judge in his vicinity. What is the correct type? What is the correct interpretation of the standard."

"Is it unreasenable to presume that when the standard was written the authors are seen to blickes the sensational winner.
